WORKSHOP REGISTRATION FORM

Peter Granucci Workshop "Fresh Green Leaves"

Class description:

"Fresh Green Leaves" - Mixing Colors in oil

Description: Revive your paintings by learning to paint with beautiful greens. Greens, it can be argued, are the most difficult colors to mix effectively, especially in landscape painting. We will learn how to mix beautiful and effective greens with the widest range of possibilities. Learn to see the differences and what makes some approach and others recede into the distance. In this all day workshop we will be working on color theory by mixing colors with an emphasis on aerial perspective and color recession using principles that apply to plein air painting. We will work on exercises and development of paintings using these ideas. Unlock the great beauty of the outdoors! Please bring some old or unfinished paintings you may want to develop further. Class held at MOCO Arts.

Saturday, June 19th, 2010, 9:00-4:00 (1 hr. lunch break)
